The Scottish Parliament’s Health, Social Care and Sport Committee is planning work into healthcare in rural & remote areas.

The Committee wants to hear your ideas for what the inquiry should focus on.

What are the most important issues that the Health, Social Care and Sport Committee should look at in its inquiry into healthcare in rural and remote areas?

We’ve set up a website where you, and your community, can put forward ideas and join the discussion to help shape the future work of the Committee.

This guide is to help you have conversations in your community and then upload them to the discussion website, which can be accessed via: <https://engage.parliament.scot/group/29190>

Knowing your views will help us think about the most important issues to focus our inquiry on and help hold the Scottish Government to account on the issues that matter to you.
