Agenda item 4 – Definition of Deafblindness

Isabella Goldie noted Annabelle Ewing MSP's apologies. Rona Mackay MSP had lodged a motion in December 2023 and 36 MSPs signed up with good cross party support. The motion was taken to the chamber on 7 Feb and the debate was led by Rona and other MSPs spoke strongly in its support including: Roz McCall, Karen Adam, Carol Mochan and Stuart McMillan, MSPs.

There were about 30 deafblind people and allies from the CPGD in the Chamber.

The outcome of the debate was Minister, Maree Todd MSP responded, she offered to explore issues further, wanted to look at outcomes for countries where definitions have been adopted and raised some concerns around equality matters being reserved.

A briefing has been sent noting how much of this was devolved responsibility, enclosing section 7 guidance which states it is devolved because it doesn't include Scotland in the guidance. Information about the other countries where it has been adopted and information on the European parliament were also attached.

Actions:

1. to follow up on the Definition of Deafblindness – Deafblind Scotland;
2. to confirm SG positively endorses the work – Annabelle Ewing/Colin Beattie MSPs;
3. elicit support for this area of work - Deafblind Scotland/All members;
4. launch a “declaration” about it in the summer.

Update from Working Group – Mark Ballard NDCS

Mark discussed 14 recommendations drafted by the working group, covering four areas of action:

1. Support and promote the Scottish Government consultation on revised guidance – link in with Lucinda.
2. Recommendations from the working group on Teachers for the Deaf – see the PowerPoint and feed any comments into Mark Ballard ASAP, and in advance of 30 April 2024 when the working group next meets. Contact: mark.ballard@ndcs.org.uk
3. Working group to produce a final report, recommendations, and any next steps.

Agenda item 6

Working Group on Sensory Care and Dementia

Roz McCall MSP noted that the working group is new, and last week. Membership includes NHS, care inspectorate, DBS, Age Scotland, a range of universities and we have three members from the Cross-party Group on Visual Impairment. The progress we made was to agree the terms of reference and that we should be developing sensory care standards for care homes and care at home, and to volunteer for working groups.

Three gaps in sensory care were identified. They are:

1. assessment for identification of sensory care needs,
2. implementation of support and

3. data regarding deafness, blindness, and deaf blindness.

The meetings are progressing, and next meeting is 5th June. Jill Bradshaw expressed an interest in being involved with the group and this was agreed.

Johnathan Reid asked about prevalence rates and assessment. In terms of dual sensory loss, how would you arrive at that without a definition?

The response noted we almost have to take the assumption that the definition is in place and work from there, and reference it wherever possible. I was encouraged with earlier points made by MSPs and advice given about pushing forward with the definition work too.

Action: Working Group to continue meeting and bring back update reports to the CPG on Deafness.

Agenda item 7

Any other business.

The three areas of update were deferred to the next meeting. It was agreed to add an additional meeting in June, in addition to any parliamentary reception, given the volume of positive work progressing and the ambition to deliver on the definition of deafblindness.

Action: Janis will liaise for suitable date and communicate with the group.

Agenda item 8 - Date of next meeting and closing remarks

The next scheduled meetings are:

Additional Date – tbc

Wednesday 26 June 2024: Parliamentary Reception and/or launch activity for Definition of Deafblindness “Declaration”

Wednesday 4 September 2024 (including AGM)

Wednesday 11 December 2024

End of document.
