Motions and amendments are usually printed the day after lodging. When an amendment is lodged, then the original motion will be republished alongside it.

Motions and amendments can be published with symbols:

- * before the number indicates publication for the first time
- ... around a section of text indicates changes to previously published material
- R indicates a member has declared a registered interest

The Parliamentary Bureau periodically deletes motions or amendments that are over six weeks old and not scheduled for debate.

Questions regarding this section should be directed to the Chamber Desk.

Members' Business motions that have not achieved cross party support

S6M-00792 Stuart McMillan: National Eye Health Week 2021—That the Parliament notes National Eye Health Week, which it considers does great work in promoting the importance of maintaining good eye health and, in 2021, runs from 20 to 26 September; believes that it continues to be vital for people in Scotland to book their free eye health check every two years in order to pick up changes to the eyes before they affect the vision; understands that 50% of sight loss is avoidable; notes the measures put in place in optometry practices across Scotland by healthcare professionals to make attending an eye health check safe during the COVID-19 pandemic; commends the work of Optometry Scotland and RNIB Scotland to encourage people to return to practices and check their eye health; emphasises what it considers the need to not forget eye health checks, and notes the call for people in Greenock and Inverclyde, and across Scotland, to book their free eye health check if they have not attended an examination in the last two years.

Other new and altered motions and amendments

S6M-00791 Fulton MacGregor: Chryston Athlete Wins Gold at Under-20 Championships—That the Parliament applauds the Chryston local, Brodie Young, on winning gold with Team GB at the European Under-20 Championships in Estonia; notes that Brodie was part of a four-man team that won the Men's 4x400m Relay Final; understands that Brodie ran 400m in 47.31 seconds, and that Team GB finished the race with a time of 3:05.25, which was almost two seconds faster than second place; praises the young athlete for his hard work, and wishes him the best of luck going forward in his athletic career.

Supported by: Rona Mackay*, Annabelle Ewing*, Siobhian Brown*, Stuart McMillan*, Kenneth Gibson*, Miles Briggs*, Bill Kidd*, Audrey Nicoll*

S6M-00790 Emma Harper: Sea the Change Beach Accessibility—That the Parliament congratulates the Coldingham initiative, Sea the Change, on purchasing two new beach wheelchairs, which help people with disabilities or mobility issues access the seaside; notes that wheelchair users are often only able to access the boardwalk or carpark; understands that Sea the Change, which was created in 2018, aims to promote sustainability, education and accessibility, particularly in relation to the climate emergency, nature and disabilities, ensuring that people with disabilities or mobility issues are able to access areas of natural beauty, including beaches; thanks Sea the Change for its positive work in helping to increase disability inclusion and in promoting education on the climate emergency, and wishes everyone involved success for the future.

S6M-00789 Lorna Slater: Support for Hospitality Workers—That the Parliament notes what it considers concerning reports from the Unite trade union, which warns of a “sharp increase of verbal and physical abuse from customers” against hospitality workers; believes that low pay and insecure working conditions were endemic in the hospitality industry prior to the COVID-19 pandemic; understands that many hospitality workers are young workers; notes the recent Resolution Foundation study that found that, at the end of May 2021, 18- to 24-year-olds were 2.5 times more likely than any other age group to have been out of work or still on furlough, and that more than one in four 18- to 24-year-olds said that they were concerned about finding a job in future due to mental health issues; further notes the calls for investment in retraining and mental health services, as well as long-term plans to improve incomes and job stability as part of a new approach to hospitality, and believes that the calls from Unite for extra security for busy venues and proactive anti-sexual harassment policies should be adopted.

S6M-00788 Maggie Chapman: Recognising the Heroism of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution—That the Parliament recognises the heroic efforts of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution (RNLI) in rescuing people at sea, particularly those fleeing war and persecution; understands what it believes is the pressure that the UK Government's so-called "hostile" immigration policies place on the services that it provides; considers that the climate and ecological crises will lead to further pressure on the lives and livelihoods of those in the Global South, and that safe routes need to be established for people seeking safety and asylum; notes that the RNLI is staffed by dedicated volunteers who put their lives on the line to rescue vulnerable people in danger and distress; recognises that the RNLI carries out its work without prejudice or judgement, and commends it for this work.

Supported by: Colin Beattie*, Kenneth Gibson*, Emma Roddick*, Gillian Mackay*, Patrick Harvie*, Siobhian Brown*, Monica Lennon*, Stuart McMillan*, Michelle Thomson*, Bill Kidd*

S6M-00787 Annie Wells: Govan-based Loop Theatre Group Forrest School—That the Parliament congratulates the Govan-based, Loop Theatre Group, which works to break down individual barriers for people with learning disabilities; notes that the group has been meeting at Bishops Loch near Easterhouse where it plans to create a performance based in the woods for schoolchildren and the local community; understands that members of Loop are working on their own version of Robin Hood, called Rabbe Heed, which will incorporate the medieval history linked with the area; acknowledges that Loop decided to use some of the money that it raised from its Kiltwalk to invest in a Forrest School, and notes that, so far, approximately 15 people have taken part in the three Saturday sessions, including 10 participants and five members of staff and volunteers.
