Debate on the subject of—

S6M-03233 Collette Stevenson: Access to Cannabis-based Products for Medicinal Use—
That the Parliament welcomes the Home Office's rescheduling of certain cannabis-based products for medicinal use (CBPMs) in 2018; notes the reported improvement in some children with treatment resistant epilepsy who take CBPMs, such as Cole Thomson, from East Kilbride, who it understands receives Bedrolite on private prescription; acknowledges the reported financial pressure that these prescriptions can place on families; further acknowledges the reported hesitancy of NHS consultants to prescribe unlicensed CBPMs due to the lack of robust evidence; notes the view that the rescheduling does not go far enough in assisting some patients, and the calls for a change in rules to allow GPs, who consider it appropriate, to prescribe unlicensed CBPMs where a non-NHS consultant has initiated that course of treatment; understands that the British Paediatric Neurology Association published its updated Guidance on the use of cannabis-based products for medicinal use in children and young people with epilepsy in October 2021, which, it considers, outlines concerns around the lack of randomised control trials demonstrating a product's safety, quality and efficacy; acknowledges the Scottish Government's reported commitment to collaborate with NHS England and the National Institute for Health Research to support research trials into medicinal cannabis in order to give NHS consultants the assurances that they need to consider prescribing CBPMs on the NHS; understands that, once a medicinal product has undergone clinical trials, it could be considered by the Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency for licensing and that this could lead to further consideration by organisations such as the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence, the Scottish Medicines Consortium and NHS Scotland; notes the calls for industry to run observational and clinical trials; believes that an increased evidence base offers the best opportunities for expansion of the range of CBPMs available from the NHS; welcomes the reported plans by Target Healthcare, which operates in East Kilbride, to produce CBPMs in Scotland, and notes the calls on the Scottish and UK governments to work together to find solutions on these issues.

Members' Business motions that have not achieved cross party support

S6M-04703 Bill Kidd: Making Scotland Hostile to Trafficking and a Safe Place for Ukrainian Refugees—That the Parliament welcomes the launch of the Hope for Justice and anti-trafficking partners' website, Ukrainians Welcome, which is aimed at protecting refugees in the UK against modern slavery, and the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe's (OSCE) new recommendations on mitigating the risks of trafficking, following the crisis in Ukraine, as it considers refugees are particularly vulnerable to trafficking for sexual exploitation and other forms of modern slavery; understands that the Scottish Government has committed to criminalising sex buyers, addressing the reported impunity of sex buyers in exploiting vulnerable women and children, and, through criminalisation, making Scotland hostile to human traffickers; considers that Baroness Helena Kennedy QC's report on Misogyny and Criminal Justice in Scotland affirms the understanding of commercial sexual exploitation, including pornography, prostitution and trafficking, as "violence against women and girls"; recognises the OSCE's reported findings that internet searches for Ukrainian women for sale for sexual exploitation has increased by between 200% to 600% across multiple countries in Europe since the Ukrainian refugee crisis started, and that, in the UK, internet searches for Ukrainian women has increased by 669%, compared with March 2021; considers that the criminalisation of sex buyers in Scotland would tackle the demand that fosters trafficking and respond to Palermo protocol commitments; commends the efforts of anti-trafficking organisations, such as International Justice Mission, which presented information to the Cross-Party Group on Human Trafficking on the work that it has been doing to prevent human trafficking occurring at the Romanian-Ukrainian border since the war in Ukraine started, and A21, which it understands is safely housing Ukrainian survivors of sex trafficking and runs trafficking awareness campaigns across Europe; considers that such examples show the success that is possible when authorities and charities work collaboratively to warn refugees of the signs of human traffickers and provide practical assistance to avoid refugees taking up unsafe offers of accommodation or transport; believes that vulnerability to trafficking increases when refugees are in transit or when financial resources reduce over time, and recognises what it sees as the invaluable work of individual sponsors, community groups and local organisations in welcoming refugees to Glasgow and the rest of Scotland, and ensuring that they are provided with the practical and emotional support needed to begin to find refuge and safety as they rebuild their lives.

S6M-04593 Paul O'Kane: Rani Skawi Welcomes Refugees to Inverclyde—That the Parliament recognises Rani Skawi's efforts in welcoming refugees from Afghanistan to their new home of Inverclyde; further recognises that Rani Skawi spoke to an audience, which included 17 Afghan refugee families, during a refugee welcome event organised by Inverclyde Community Development Trust, Inverclyde Council, CVS Inverclyde, Your Voice, Beacon Arts Centre and Compassionate Inverclyde; understands that Rani Skawi was herself a refugee who left her home in Damascus, Syria, three years ago and has since settled in Port Glasgow with her family; celebrates that Rani Skawi is using her own experience as a refugee to offer guidance and reassurance to refugees in similar circumstances; further celebrates that her story of moving to Scotland is one of success, having enrolled in a college course, obtained a driving licence and, in her own words, has "a whole new life" and is "very happy", and believes that, as more stories emerge concerning the challenges and strife of refugees across the world, people like Rani Skawi can be symbols of hope.

That the Parliament acknowledges the 20th anniversary of the Youth Music Initiative (YMI), administered by Creative Scotland for the Scottish Government, providing an opportunity to celebrate the achievements of young people, while paying tribute to those who make it all happen, and raising awareness of the value of accessing music for all young people into the future; understands that YMI currently operates with an annual budget of £9 million, which allows young people to access a wide range of music-making activities and opportunities; further understands that £1.2 million funding was made available to 44 community projects across the country to provide online concerts, virtual tuition sessions, networking and development opportunities, as well as tailored mentoring programmes; acknowledges what it sees as the positive impact of the YMI; understands that it reached 278,000 young people in 2019-20, is currently supporting more than 300 Scottish-based projects, creating nearly 1,000 jobs and over 3,400 professional development opportunities; notes the Scottish Government's commitment to offer every pupil in Scotland a year of free music tuition by the time they leave primary school, supported through the School Based Music Making Fund, which, it believes, also tackles inequality and engages with young people who would otherwise not be able to participate in meaningful and high-quality music making opportunities; thanks Youth Music manager at Creative Scotland, Morag Donald, and Mrs Oates, headteacher at St Brendan's Primary, Motherwell, for showcasing the talented young people, and wishes them all the best for the future.

Proposals for Members' Bills

A member seeking to introduce a Member's Bill must first lodge a draft proposal, together with a consultation document (or a statement of reasons why consultation is not considered necessary). Subsequently, the member may lodge a final proposal, in broadly similar terms to the draft, accompanied by a summary of consultation responses (or the statement of reasons). The member secures the right to introduce a Bill to give effect to the proposal if the final proposal secures, within one month, the support of at least 18 other members from at least half the political parties or groups represented in the Parliamentary Bureau, and provided no statement is made that the Scottish Government is planning equivalent legislation.

All current proposals (together with associated documents) are available on the Scottish Parliament website at Proposals for Members' Bills/Session 6 Proposals:

Progress of Legislation

A list of all Bills in progress can be accessed via the Scottish Parliament website at:

<https://www.parliament.scot/bills-and-laws/bills>

For each Bill, the date of the next (or most recent) event in the Bill's passage is given. Other relevant information, e.g. about lodging amendments, is given in italics.

As soon as a Public Bill (i.e. a Government, Committee or Member's Bill) has completed Stage 1, amendments for consideration at Stage 2 may be lodged; and as soon as Stage 2 is completed, amendments for Stage 3 consideration may be lodged. The last lodging day for amendments at Stage 2 is four sitting days before the meeting at which those amendments will be considered (e.g. Wednesday for a meeting on Tuesday); at Stage 3 it is five days before. Amendments may be lodged until 4.30 pm on any sitting day, except on the last lodging day for each Stage, when the deadline is 12 noon.

A Hybrid Bill is subject to the same rules except in the case of Stage 2 where amendments for consideration may be lodged no earlier than the completion of any consideration of evidence at Stage 2.

Amendments to Private Bills are subject to different deadlines. These are set out in Rule 9A.12 of Standing Orders.

Members are advised to lodge amendments in good time before the beginning of a Stage and as early as possible during the day.

(G) = Government Bill; (M) = Member's Bill; (C) = Committee Bill; (P) = Private Bill; (H) = Hybrid Bill.
